

Daves Committee Omits Moratorium From Debt Reports

LeMatin Publishes Recommendation; Contents Believed Authentic

MORTGAGE ON INDUSTRIES
Suggestions Provide for Board to Prevent Panic After Payments

Paris — Brigadier General Dawes and his fellow reparations experts seem to have attained the objects at which they aimed, declares LeMatin in presenting a summary of the committee's forthcoming report, which is accepted here as authoritative.

They achieved this, the newspaper adds, without raising the political problem of the occupation of the Ruhr or trying to fix definitely the amount of German debt, since, if the Dawes' report gives exact details on the amount of the yearly payments which may be exacted from the Reich, it in no way fixes the number the part which depends on the budget surplus of the Reich.

The report provides mainly, according to LeMatin, that Germany shall receive no moratorium. A temporary concession will be made of her railroads, a mortgage placed on her industries and a bureau established to govern the transfer of money from the country in such a manner as to disturb the exchange market as little as possible.

Her annual payments would be tapered upward to keep pace with her economic recovery and financial ability.

If financial disorder prevents or delays execution of Germany's financial engagements the experts provide automatic installation of strict control by the allies which would be vested with extended powers over the treasury of the Reich.

In connection with the Ruhr, the experts' committee "economic restoration" for Germany can be done only on one condition.

The economic unity of the country must be entirely reestablished.

MUST CONTROL RUHR

Without raising the question of military occupation of the Ruhr, the experts indicate that it will be necessary for Germany to resume free disposal of customs and the fourth industry, coal, iron, and steel, and the railroad, in the territory occupied by French troops. The railroad system of the Ruhr and Rhineland would be under special supervision of an allied representative in order to assure normal traffic and security for French troops.

Under the proposed reduced annual payments, Germany would apply on the reparation account the first year 1,000,000,000 gold marks raised by means of an international loan of 300,000,000 gold marks plus 200,000,000 from the transportation tax. The second and third years she would pay 1,200,000,000 from the transportation tax. The second and third years she would pay 1,200,000,000 gold marks; the fourth year 1,500,000,000 and the fifth 2,400,000,000 and so on. From the sixth year the reparation commission would exact supplementary payments in addition to the foregoing of 2,400,000,000 gold marks dependent on a prosperity index carefully established by the Dawes committee. The supplementary payments under this index could gradually reach several millions of gold marks.

The supplementary total of 2,400,000,000 marks would be thus obtained.

From budget receipts 1,500,000,000 marks; from transportation tax and railroad receipts 600,000,000; from mortgage on industries 400,000,000.

The railroads of the Reich would be transferred for 50 years to a company with 25,000,000,000 gold marks capital.

HUGE BOND ISSUE

The plan provides for issuance of bonds to the value of 5,000,000,000 gold marks, secured on the industrial property to be handed over to the reparation commission. These bonds would yield 300,000,000 gold marks for 40 years with a 5 per cent interest and 1 per cent to the sinking fund.

Interest falling to pay their share of the interest would be liable to seizure. At the same time the German government would be held responsible for payment, the reparation commission being entitled to make good any deficiency in payment by seizing taxes due to the Reich.

The experts, LeMatin says, considered the problem of how Germany can transfer such large sums abroad without upsetting the international financial market as more difficult than establishing how much and in what manner she should pay.

After a long study they suggest the creation of a permanent committee of five commissioners, each being a specialist, with a president appointed by the reparation commission and accepted by the governments, to direct this complicated and delicate operation.

People's Legislative Service Says New Attorney General Is Biased

Washington, D. C.—Enumerating a list of corporations for which the law firm of Harlan F. Stone, the new attorney general, has acted counsel the People's Legislative Service, of which Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin is head, declared Tuesday in a statement that "it would appear from the facts that if the appointment of Mr. Stone was not dictated by Wall Street interests and particularly by J. P. Morgan and Co., it will at least be completely satisfactory to them."

HUNDREDS SEEK TO DAM FLOODED RIVER

By Associated Press
Scranton, Pa.—A force of several hundred men, motor trucks, and shovels and mules worked Tuesday to swing the course of the swollen Lackawanna river which Monday broke into the Dodge mine of the Glen Alden Coal Co., and flooded five other anthracite collieries that connect under ground. Simon Jones and Arthur Morgan, mine workers, are missing and believed dead.

Catastrophe in the opening along the river bank into which thousands of gallons of water poured every minute, but there had no effect. Freight cars will be run into the river in an effort to check the flood.

Several thousand mine workers are idle because of the flood.

RAIL CHIEFS GRANT RAISE TO WORKERS

Approximately 500,000 Affected; Increase Means $50,000,000 Expense

By Associated Press
Chicago—Wage increases of 5 per cent, affecting approximately 500,000 employees of 31 western railroads and subsidiaries are reported to have been agreed upon Monday night as a result of negotiations since March 19, between representatives of the roads, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The reported increase will add nearly $50,000,000 annually to the payrolls of the railroads which are reported to have agreed to the new contract. Passenger trainmen will receive an increase of 24 cents a day, freight trainmen 20 cents, conductors 23 cents, brakemen 26 cents and switchmen 26 cents, it is reported. Other employees affected will receive corresponding increases.

Salary raises asked for by trainmen and conductors were virtually granted by the reported increases. The railroads opposing the increases asked union officials to make changes in working rules which would take away extra time for layovers and to make certain other concessions, some of which are reported to have been made.

The railroads affected represent about 90 per cent of the mileage west of Chicago. The Chicago, Great Western, Chicago and Alton, and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern were not parties to the negotiations.

STONE MEETS OPPOSITION OF BOB'S BACKERS

People's Legislative Service Says New Attorney General Is Biased

Washington, D. C.—The bobbing up of Governor Al Smith in the Wisconsin contest for delegates as a victor over William G. McAdoo has brought forth from the latter's headquarters the explanation that Senator LaFollette and not the New York governor was responsible for the victory.

The railroad workers, it is explained, who originally were to go into the Democratic primary, were suddenly urged to enter the Republican primaries in support of Senator LaFollette.

Out of the total number of districts, the McAdoo men claim they won at least five outright and that they have a chance in the final tally of getting a sixth, and that out of a possible 26 delegates, they will have at least 10 and maybe 12.

There is, however, a significance in what the Wisconsin railroad men did. Heretofore, one of the principal arguments of the McAdoo campaign has been that their leader would capture the railroad vote if he were the presidential nominee. With the certainty that Senator LaFollette will be a candidate, the question now is whether much of the radical strength and labor vote which Mr. McAdoo might get would swing to the Wisconsin senator running on a third party ticket.

McADOO CHIEFS HAPPY

The McAdoo generals are happy, however, over the progress they have made thus far and are not concerned in yet over what will happen after the nominating conventions. The most striking victory won by the McAdoo forces was that in which Wilbur Marsh, national committeeman, friend of Charlie Murphy, Tom Taggart, George Brennan and the organization leaders in the Democratic party, was defeated by the McAdoo manager in Iowa, Clyde Herring of Des Moines. Edward T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture and a McAdoo leader, was elected delegate-at-large and will be chairman of the delegation. Marsh won only one and one-half out of the eleven congressional districts. The unit rules was imposed, however, and this gives McAdoo Iowa's 25 votes.

The fight in Iowa goes back to San Francisco convention of 1920 when Wilbur Marsh, using the unit rule, prevented several men in the Iowa delegation from voting their state for McAdoo. The delegation was swung for Cox.

MARSH IS CONSPICUOUS

Wilbur Marsh has always been a conspicuous figure at meetings of the Democratic national committee. As treasurer of the party, he played an important part in financing the recent campaigns.

The McAdoo forces now claim they have at least 150 delegates—a total larger than any other candidate has pledged. This, of course, is a long way from two thirds. But the primaries are by no means over. The McAdoo men are fighting hard for a victory in the Illinois primaries on April 8. George Brennan has a slight chance of "unintentional" delegates and the McAdoo men are not very hopeful of doing better than a few delegates in the convention districts. McAdoo is not entered in Nebraska out of deference to Governor Charles Bryan but the delegations that will go to the convention is expected to swing to McAdoo after the first few ballots.

The fight being waged by the McAdoo forces in nearly every state where the old organization men have been in control is very much like that which preceded the Baltimore convention in 1912. It begins to look more and more as if the struggle, while ostensibly in favor of individuals, is really a fundamental controversy as between the organization "bosses" and the so-called progressives, which, however, is only another way of referring in most cases to the Wilson and anti-Wilson wings in the Democratic party.

RAILROADS PAY MILLION A DAY IN TAXES, CLAIM

Chicago—Railroad taxes in the last two months of 1923 amounted to over $1,000,000 a day, according to Samuel Follett, president of the Chicago Great Western railroad on Monday. Unless a halt is called, railroad rates must be advanced to provide the money to pay taxes," he added.

Opposed

Harlan F. Stone, new attorney general, snapped on the way to his office where he is "packing his duds" in preparation for moving in on Washington.

Mr. Stone is meeting with some opposition on the part of the People's Legislative service of which Robert M. LaFollette is head, on the grounds that he is biased in favor of Wall Street interests.

STATE ROAD BOARD WILL HEAR PLEAS

Series of Hearings on Changes in Trunk System Planned in Near Future

By Associated Press
Madison—A series of hearings in counties over the state will be held during the next month by the state highway commission to consider petitions for changes in the state trunk highway system, it was stated Tuesday by a member of the commission. Decision to hold the hearings was reached by the commission Monday.

Thirteen county boards have passed resolutions asking for hearings in the trunk system, it was stated, in addition to petitions from approximately 30 other counties. The hearings will begin the latter part of this month.

At the conclusion of the hearings a meeting of the joint legislative highway committee appointed to lay out 2,500 additional miles of state system will be called with the highway commission at which time the entire state system will be completed, members said.

CRONKHITE MURDER TRIAL IS REOPENED

Washington — America's Dreyfus case has been reopened by the United States supreme court, which has held that Capt. Robert Rosenbluth and Sgt. Richard R. Pottier must stand trial on indictments charging them with murder of Maj. Alexander P. Cronkhite at Camp Lewis, Wash., if the federal district court of the western district of Washington so orders.

This case has become one of the most famous in army history and has been surrounded with intrigue, political pressure and charges of perjury. Cronkhite was killed in a way which makes it a strange parallel to the famous Dreyfus case which agitated France for several years.

SECOND RUM OFFENSE COUNTS, COURT RULES

By Associated Press
Madison — Persons convicted of second liquor offenses must be sentenced under the second offense provisions of the Severe prohibition act and not under the general statute when it reversed the case of Silas Bilven against the state. Bilven, Janesville resident, was sentenced to one and one-half years for a second liquor offense under the general laws.

HUNT AND GRAB LAW UPHELD IN RULING

Madison — Search warrants sworn out on "information and belief" are valid under the Wisconsin constitution and the Severe prohibition law, the state supreme court held Tuesday in the case of the state vs. George Bailes. The court affirmed the decision of the lower court.

The court held however, that the magistrate issuing the warrant on information and belief must be reasonably convinced of the violation of some state law.

The ruling in effect, sustains validity of search and seizure provisions of the Severe prohibition act. The court's opinion was written by Chief Justice Wilcox.

UNIVERSITY REFUSES TO OUST NEGRO LODGER

New York—The attempt on the part of the Fernald hall committee at Columbia university to bring about the dismissal of Frederick W. Wells, negro law student residing in Fernald hall, failed Monday when the residence halls committee, composed of university authorities, met and rejected the request.

Dean Herbert E. Hawkes of Columbia college presided over the meeting which refused to ask Wells to leave.

"This request has been refused," he said, "but it has been refused. That ends it. There will be no further action taken for we have dropped the matter."

COTTON JUMPS $6 WHEN TAX BILL IS REPORTED

By Associated Press
New Orleans, La.—Cotton advanced nearly $4 a bale in the forenoon trading due to the reporting of the Mellon tax bill by the senate and unsettled weather in the cotton growing belt. May contracts sold at 30.62 cents, an advance of 11 points over Monday's closing.

SENATE PROBES DRY POLICY IN DAUGHERTY ERA

Chief of General Dry Agents Submits Official Records Called For

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Prohibition enforcement policies under the administration of Attorney General Daugherty continued the main objective of the Daugherty investigating committee Tuesday although short side excursions were taken into a mail fraud case in Boston and the Old Hickory power plant controversy in Tennessee.

After Brice F. Armstrong, a Chicago prohibition agent had brought in a new string of charges about illicit brewing and protected bootlegging in the Illinois district, E. C. Tellowley, chief of the prohibition unit's general agents, was called to the stand and submitted some of the official records asked for by the committee. Adjournment was taken until Wednesday senators had begun their detailed examination of the witnesses.

DUPONT CO. IMPLICATED

The Old Hickory case was brought into the testimony by George W. Stock, a department of justice accountant, who not only declared the Dupont interests had led the department to accept inadequate invoices of the property, but charged that confidential data gathered by him last summer in a basis for prosecution had been turned over to the Dupont lawyers.

Stock also asserted that he had been told by H. V. Green of Boston, whose stock transactions were being investigated under the mail fraud, that Harry M. Daugherty served as his attorney before entering the cabinet. There was no admission of prosecution in the case, the witness said, although he had favored one.

GIRLS BURNED IN SCHOOL HAZING

New York—Three girls were branded with silver nitrate and perhaps permanently disfigured at a hazing which marked their initiation into Delta Kappa Gamma, a Brooklyn high school sorority, it was disclosed on Monday.

Physicians feared fatal developments when the victims became seriously ill, pronounced them out of danger, although still under treatment.

The girl who led the affair, a Sunday school teacher, was reported as suffering a nervous collapse.

The candidates' faces, throats and backs were daubed with nitrate while their arms and waists were painted on them crosses inscribed on their cheeks and the sorority letters on their foreheads.

Even the victims thought it painless fun until the next day. Then, when they got into the sunlight, they turned black wherever the nitrate had touched. Intense burning pains and lightheadedness, and the doctors were summoned.

The girls who planned the initiation also said to have declared they used the silver nitrate in the belief that it would not burn.

WORLD FLIERS HOPE TO START THURSDAY

Prince Rupert, B. C.—Major Fredrick L. Martin, commander of the army air squadron attempting to circle the world, was busy Tuesday with preparations for repairs on his cruiser, the flag plane, Seattle, to be made as soon as extra parts arrive Wednesday from Seattle. His plane was damaged in landing here Sunday after the 450-mile jump from Seattle.

The commander hopes to have his plane ready Thursday morning.

Finance Board Favors New Tax Bill In Report

Find Missing Navy Officer Has Amnesia

By Associated Press
San Francisco, Calif. — A youth identified as Lieutenant Ervin R. Brown, United States navy paymaster who disappeared with $112,000 in government funds from Mobile, Ala., March 19, was found Monday night in Golden Gate park here, apparently a victim of amnesia.

The man taken into custody had $1,200 in his pockets. He talked incoherently and under persistent questioning became violent and had to be subdued. He is under guard in a hospital detention ward.

In an apparently lucid moment the prisoner was quoted as saying: "If I'm identified, then what's the use of talking."

BRITAIN WATCHES EVICTIONS FIGHT

Indications Lacking As to Future Course of Defeated Government

By Associated Press
London—The government's future action on the evictions question, in connection with which it suffered a defeat in the house of commons Monday, is the main topic of political speculation in parliamentary circles and the press but there is as yet no indication of the course it proposes to take.

It is noteworthy that after the defeat of the government's evictions bill, a similar measure introduced by Ernest Simon, Liberal, passed its second reading without opposition. The Simon bill was almost identical with the government bill with the exception of the first clause, objections to which killed the latter.

This clause had to do with the reimbursement of landlords whose tenants through unemployment are unable to pay rent.

COOLIDGE WINS IN MICHIGAN PRIMARY

Detroit, Mich.—Calvin Coolidge won a sweeping victory in Michigan Monday.

Returns from 2005 out of 2,800 precincts in the state in Monday's presidential primary show:

Coolidge (R) 163,731; Johnson (R) 78,864; Simpson (R) 6,266. Returns from 1,966 precincts give for president: Ford (D) 22,146; Ferris (D) 25,716.

Both Ford and President Coolidge carried Wayne co. (Detroit), figures from all but a few scattered outlying precincts indicated. Ford's margin in Wayne co. was 2,531 and his total advantage throughout the state, including Wayne, was 2,832. Because of the closeness of the race in the rural sections and similar cities where the missing precincts are located the outcome of the Ford-Ferris contest still is unsettled.

President Coolidge carried Wayne co. by a margin of 15,287 votes over Senator Johnson.

Returns from 2005 out of 2,800 precincts in the state in Monday's presidential primary show:

Coolidge (R) 163,731; Johnson (R) 78,864; Simpson (R) 6,266. Returns from 1,966 precincts give for president: Ford (D) 22,146; Ferris (D) 25,716.

Both Ford and President Coolidge carried Wayne co. (Detroit), figures from all but a few scattered outlying precincts indicated. Ford's margin in Wayne co. was 2,531 and his total advantage throughout the state, including Wayne, was 2,832. Because of the closeness of the race in the rural sections and similar cities where the missing precincts are located the outcome of the Ford-Ferris contest still is unsettled.

President Coolidge carried Wayne co. by a margin of 15,287 votes over Senator Johnson.

INVITATIONS OUT FOR ANNUAL DINNER OF C. OF C. APRIL 14

Ballots Also Are Mailed for Election of Five Directors for Year

Invitations for the annual fellowship dinner April 14 at Vermorels and ballots for the election of five directors have been mailed to all members of the chamber of commerce. Members are expected to return dinner reservation cards promptly, also to cast the ballot before Monday of next week.

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett is hoping for the largest attendance of the year at the dinner next week. He believes every member ought to be present, because the program will be a round table conference on the welfare of Appleton. Everybody who has ideas about the work of the chamber or advancement of the city will be glad to express himself. The meeting will serve as a gauge of community interest.

Election of directors will be made largely by mail from a list of ten candidates. Votes may be cast personally on April 14 up to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Judges then will open the envelopes and tabulate the ballot in time to make the results known at the dinner in the evening.

ON THE SCREEN

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN AN OTHER DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

In "The Studio Girl," Paul West's adaptation of comedy "La Gamine," by P. Veber and H. de Gorsse, which will be shown here at the New Bijou Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Constance Talmadge portrays another heroine of the lovable type, who is rapidly making her own name. The picture was directed by Charles Giblin.

Frazer Ordway, a New York artist (Earle Foxe) engaged to the rich Eignoria, Adriana Petroni, goes to Cliff Haven, a New England village, for a few weeks' rest. In this town dwells Cella Laird (Constance Talmadge) with her maiden aunts, Rachel and Harriet Farnum. Cella is engaged to Obadiah Daw, an awkward out of twenty-three, the village catch. He is very much in love with her, but she does not return his affection; and she is stifled with the narrowness of her existence.

On the cliffs Cella comes upon Ordway sketching. They get into an animated conversation, and she is quite obvious of the fact that Obadiah is cooling his heels in the Farnum parlor and that the aunts are embarrassed by her absence. In a week, Cella's acquaintance with the artist ripens into a firm friendship and her aunts, seeing the trend of affairs, advise an early marriage.

But when Ordway leaves for New York in his car, he discovers Cella curled up in the tonneau and he puts her on a train bound, as he believes, for Cliff Haven. On reaching New York he goes direct to his fiancée's home, but on returning to his apartment he discovers the girl bedraggled and asleep in his armchair.

The village constables arrive to arrest him on a charge of abduction—his fiancée also pays him an impromptu visit. See the picture and learn how adroitly the young artist escapes from both dilemmas and the situation resolves itself into a delightful ending.

BARTHELMESS SEEN IN NEW CHARACTER

Ever since Dick Barthelmess played the part of the Chinaman in "Broken Blossoms" moving picture fans have wanted to see him in a character role. They are gratified at last in "The Enchanted Cottage," which is now being shown at the Elite Theatre. In this picture Dick plays the part of a crippled, shell-shocked veteran of the Great War.

For over two weeks Dick experimented with makeup before he obtained the proper effects for his present role. As he explains it, the difficulty lay in the fact that although his character wears the clothes of a young man and is supposed to have all the desires of a young man for life, he must portray with his face only the bitter, unhealthy moods of a chronic invalid.

"I could wear this part," he would say, "Dick said, 'But I took me a long time to adapt myself to a limping gait, twisted shoulders and the dull stare of a sick man.'"

Incidentally, May McAvoy also plays a character role in "The Enchanted Cottage," an innovation for May, who has never deviated much from straight parts in the past. Her role is that of a homely girl and she has also resorted to the tricks of the makeup box to obtain her effects. It is a John S. Robertson production and a First National picture.

Never in the history of motion pictures has a photograph depicted with such accuracy the passions and desires of youth as shown in Daniel Goodman's dramatic masterpiece, "The Daring Years," showing today and tomorrow at the Majestic theatre.

"The Daring Years" is a story of young love: Youth dares everything for love, contends Daniel Carson Goodman, author and producer of this unusual play.

The story deals with the love life of a young college man, who, blinded by passion, plunges deep in the mire of Broadway's mud. He falls deeper and deeper into the abyss, lured on by the sparkling eyes and mocking lips of a blonde cabaret beauty, until, through circumstances over which he has no control, he is accused of murder. His mother and former sweetheart, who both adore him, save him at the last minute from the electric chair, to which he has been condemned.

THE "LOST LEGION'S" HOPE

Here are the men who are reviewing the records of the soldier prisoners at the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas. They are Major Ross (left) and Major Stanfield. Their work probably will result in paroles for many of the men whom the nation forgot.

Snowball Beats Hasty Exit As Sergeant Barks

"Snowball" thought he had landed in a K. K. town and made a hasty exit from Appleton after spending the night in the city lockup. "Snowball" is a misnomer, for he is at least two shades darker than a scuffle of coal. He hesitated to give the police his real name for he did not want his good name soiled by having it entered on the police blotter. He finally gave the name of Elmer Lindon, but police are not certain if that is his true name.

"Snowball" was collecting a few pennies by means of entertainment which he furnished on a mouth organ and a guitar. He was temporarily detained on complaint that he was drunk. But Snowball let no moss grow under his feet when the desk sergeant asked him if he had not observed a sign where the railroad tracks enter the city limits.

"What sign is that?" he inquired. "Mistah Niggah, don't let the sun set on you in this town."

"Mah goodness," he quaked, "Ah'd known dat. Ah'd nebbber come in de first place."

A few minutes later he had scraped the mud of this city off his feet.

DAIRY COMPANY OPENS ROAD IN OUTAGAMIE-CO

Practically all concrete highways of the county are now open for automobile traffic. But that section of highway 15 which lies between Kaukauna and the eastern county line had been opened by artificial means rather than through the help of the spring thaw.

The Sheboygan Dairy company of Green Bay, unwilling to wait for the roads to thaw out or for the Outagamie-co highway committee to start things, took matters in their own hands a week ago and cleared away the snow drifts from the road.

All winter highway 15 had been blocked between McCarty's crossing and the boundary of Brown-co. A proposal for a joint movement of two counties to keep the Kaukauna DePere-d open was rejected by the road committee of Outagamie-co for the reason that the county board had made no appropriation for that work. The Sheboygan Dairy company, however, hired a crew of men and cleared the road themselves.

The Rev. Basil Gummormann, pastor of St. Joseph church left Tuesday for Seymour where he will preach. He expects to return on Thursday.

ed through the testimony of the shameless dancer.

Under the masterly guidance of Mr. Goodman, the story reaches a stupendous climax, and the denouement of the play is thrilling and unusual to the nth degree.

These are the new prospective builders:

Henry Techlin, 999 Richmond-st., build filling station and move store and garage.

FARMER RENTS FARM FROM NEIGHBOR; AUCTION TODAY

Henry Haen has rented the John Merkel farm in Grand Chute. Live-stock, farm machinery and other personal property is to be disposed of at a public auction which was to be held on the farm Tuesday. The farm is located on a side road just off Highway 47, near Meidam's corner. The Merkel farm is near Mr. Haen's own farm. Mr. Haen will have the first privilege of buying the farm after a year's lease.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell were called to Chicago Tuesday by the illness of a sister of the former.

AMATEURS DO WELL IN PASSION PLAY

Another capacity crowd witnessed the production of "The Great Story," a Passion play, by members of St. Joseph congregation in the parish hall Monday night. The play will be given for the last time Tuesday night. Fortified by their experience of Sunday evening, the big cast put on a most creditable performance. G. J. Keller, played the part of Christ, again held his audience with his fine interpretation of the part. L. Hugo Keller, as Judas, also appeared to good advantage.

The work of the cast indicated that hard work preceded the production. The play has many lines and calls for much dramatic effort and the amateurs taking part did exceptionally well.

A DANGEROUS PROPOSAL

Editorial reference was made yesterday to a decision of the supreme court of the United States which held unconstitutional a law enacted by the state of Oregon designed to compel children to attend a public school. One of the purposes of the act was to make it impossible for private and parochial schools to exist. All persons have their ideas as to the comparative value of parochial, private and public schools, and of the place they ought to occupy in our educational system.

Nevertheless, there is a principle involved which goes to the foundation of our government, and that is the constitutional right of civic and religious liberty. All of the millions of Catholics in the country are affected. In cities like Appleton, where Catholics and Protestants are quite evenly divided, they are vitally affected. It is the constitution of the United States which has protected Catholics and other persons and institutions in the enjoyment of certain privileges which they hold to be fundamental.

There is a movement, supported by Mr. LaFollette among others, to adopt a constitutional amendment that would permit congress, and subsequently legislatures, to reenact by a certain majority any law which the supreme court might hold to be unconstitutional. If such an amendment were in force today, both in the United States and in the state of Oregon, it would be possible for the legislature of Oregon to pass its compulsory school law over the head of the supreme court and enforce it. It would be possible for the congress of the United States to enact such a law, well knowing it to be unconstitutional and upon a decision of the supreme court to this effect, to reenact it and enforce it.

It would be possible for the congress to enact any law destroying religious liberty, personal or property security or any of the privileges guaranteed by the constitution which are essential to free institutions and to the maintenance of the so-called bill of rights. The country would be exposed to demagoguery and prejudice and to every emotional whim of a law making body swept into power on a wave of feeling and distorted judgment. The peril of this ought to be apparent to every thinking citizen. It would be equivalent to doing away with the constitution and every human safeguard it has set up against tyranny, despotism and political hysteria.

BACK TO MINNESOTA

Mrs. Magnus Johnson, wife of the Minnesota senator, does not like the climate in Washington, and she will go back to the Johnson farm in Minnesota. Where in the climate of the national capital is inconvenient to Mrs. Johnson is explained by the apparently incidental phrase in the news item that she will return home "in time for the spring planting."

Back to the farm, and the fresh air and the open sky. Let Magnus mingle with the great men of this wonderful country, and study and solve our national problems. Let Magnus wear his new forty dollar suit, and take on the grand manner of the distinguished posers of the higher branch of congress. Let Magnus become acclimated to rows of stone and brick, thousands of honking horns, and hosts of bustling people. Let Magnus live in the city.

Magnus may be inexperienced, and he may not be brilliant, but he is sincere and he thinks originally and along honest lines. If he does not become too well acclimated to the capital, he may reason to just conclusions. Too many of those who are better informed than Magnus are not as worthy or reliable as he, because they are unwilling to adopt their convictions. The spring planting interests Mrs. Johnson more than legislation, investigations and politics. And why not? Those interested in the latter are the exception, not the rule. We think Mrs. Johnson has the better of the deal.

RESTRAINT OF THE PRESS

Congress would provide the news and plan the make-up of the daily newspapers if it passed a bill which Senator Owen of Oklahoma has introduced. The bill stipulates that a newspaper would be compelled to print a "sworn statement or correction, explanation or denial," that might be submitted by any person mentioned by name in a previous issue. The statement would have to run "on precisely the same page and position of the page" as the original article.

Were the law in effect, and Senator Owen took exception to what is said in this comment, his statement, whatever it might be, would have to appear not only on this page, but in this space. In a few weeks or months this column would be taken up entirely by "formal statements." As soon as the "formal statements" gave out, we should write a few more comments, and then set the column aside again for these statements.

Any person who believes that he is wronged by a newspaper, may obtain redress under existing law. If a news item in which his name is mentioned is not accurate, the newspaper is glad to make a correction or amplification. Senator Owen's proposed law is a product of political mind who cannot stand the light of publicity.

The press should not be regulated by state. It is subject, every day, to regulation by the public. The press must be free if it is to serve the public. To put it under control of politicians would destroy its power for good and would effectually remove the constant protection it affords against corrupt government, vice and greed and all the evils that beset society. The press is the greatest security to free institutions and individual rights that exists. The first thing dictators who would destroy free government do when in power is to suppress or censor newspapers.

CONFIRMED PACIFICISM

When we give serious attention to a pacifist movement which totally rejects essentials for the preservation and extension of peace, we are overplaying peace. Universal peace will not and cannot be produced by small and weak nations. The strong nations, in particular those which won it in the recent war, are the only ones which can maintain peace and spread it. Peace cannot be had, or kept, or extended, except by power; and not only the power of popular opinion and sentiment, but the physical power which is capable of checking and preventing war.

Pacifism which objects to military preparedness and says it will not fight under any circumstances is based on the false assumption that everybody can have peace, and every nation and race can have peace, simply by vowing not to engage in war or countenance it. Just say that we shall not fight, and there will be no conflict. If we do not fight, others will not.

This is a puerile idea which, instead of guaranteeing peace would most certainly produce war. Had Belgium, France and Great Britain taken such an attitude they would have been unable to make a defense against the militarism which sought to impose its tyranny on Europe and subsequently on the world.

The great nations which believe in peace—and all the great nations do, must be potentially competent to impress the world with their desire for universal and lasting peace. They must be prepared to enforce peace. When they establish peace throughout the world by propaganda and education, then it may be advisable to take vows against war. Until then the surest means for preventing war is to be ready to fight for peace and liberty.

HOW NOT TO HANDLE WOUNDS

For this season, No. 11 in the course on the medicine cupboard we are giving Tuesday and Fridays, when it doesn't rain, we are offering some practical pointers on the home treatment or first aid care of minor wounds.

The safety first rule which must be borne constantly in mind in dealing with any kind of wound is: Don't touch anything. This is simple enough for almost anybody to remember, but few laymen can carry it out in practice to degree consistent with the requirements of modern asepsis or surgical cleanliness. Probably the greater share of trouble from infected wounds and retarded healing is directly due to the almost uncontrollable penchant the victim or the first aid volunteer has for putting his fingers on the wound or on something which is to come in contact with the wound. Even when a surgeon is on hand and striving to procure an aseptic environment he must keep an incessant watch on the patient and the patient's friends to see to it that nobody sticks his fingers in things. Many an elaborate aseptic effort is set at naught by the mischievous or surreptitious touch of a curious finger, which amounts to planting a colony of bacteria in the wound unless that finger has been very vigorously scrubbed for the adventure.

A simple dry dressing is the best for all fresh wounds, except where raw surface is exposed, when a bit of sterile petroleum jelly may be squeezed from a tub directly upon the wound or upon the fold of gauze which is to cover the wound. There is no oil or ointment or medication of any description which will bring about healing more certainly than this simple emollient and protective dressing of petroleum jelly (soft petrolatum) will; so there need be no question as to what to put on a fresh wound. For certain older lesions, and for burns, the ointment to be described in a subsequent lesson is more comforting than plain petrolatum.

The gauze pad or compress should be removed from its envelope or carton with great care to protect it from contact with fingers or any object until it is applied to the wound.

Never apply cotton directly upon a wound or raw surface without some protective material next to the skin. But a layer of cotton over the gauze pad or compress, and then a bandage snugly but not tightly applied, completes the ideal first aid dressing. No mysterious salves, impressive odors or fireworks are required.

If a cut or wound gapes it should be drawn together and held closely by means of carefully applied strips of adhesive plaster. The cutting or tearing of the adhesive strips and their effective fixation to the wound requires exquisite pains lest the simple emollient and protective dressing of petroleum jelly (soft petrolatum) or other oil be destroyed, to not the plaster.

With a few exceptions, which we will refer to later, minor wounds may be considered sterile unless they become infected through contact with unclean objects. Therefore, once you've satisfied the rule of iodine swabbing and applied an appropriate dressing it is best to allow that dressing to remain undisturbed for a week or more if possible, for nothing we can do to a clean wound will hasten the natural healing process, and there are any number of things a layman can do to retard the healing.

So we've emphasized the rule of first aid dressing: (1) Keep your fingers out of it. (2) Let it alone. (3) Keep your fingers out of it. (4) Let it alone.

A skating tournament was to be held Wednesday evening at the Northwestern house. Theodore Schultz of Center and Miss Amanda Sederstrom of Oconto were married April 6 at the home of the groom's parents.

The skating tournament at A. J. Smith's club rooms Monday evening was attended by 35 players. The prizes were won by Dr. W. L. Conkey, Julius Peerenboom, Willis Babb and A. Green. Mrs. VanStratum and Mr. Schwertke of Kimberly were induced by being thrown from their buggy while driving to Kaukauna. The accident was caused by the breaking of the rear spring. Miss Irene Whitman returned from a several weeks' visit at Madison.

BATTERY 'E' GETS FIVE RECRUITS

Alonso wants to know if the above headline of the Green Bay Press Gazette isn't a mistake. Since the bay city is radio town, should not the caption read, "Five Recruits Get B Batteries"?

Dogs are man's best friends, so says the proprietress of Peter Pan. Yes, but—who doesn't want to change off with a tenderloin steak or a chop once in a while?

Only nine months left of leap year. Or your proposing early.

A reformer would change the name of Hollywood to Follywood. The Hollywood.

This Sounds Like a Fish Story. There are dogs and dogs. But even William Hutchinson can't beat the one they tell of the water spaniel owned by James Poppy, chairman of the town of Mukwonago.

In a dispute over the skill of their dogs, Poppy and another man agreed to throw a silver dollar into the river and send the spaniel in after it. The dog dove into the river but failed to retrieve. When bubbles came up, the other man chuckled, "See, your dog is drowned."

Yet a minute later the spaniel came to the surface carrying a two-pound catfish—and 80 cents.

"You see," said Poppy, turning to leave, "the dog had to wait a minute for his change."

One more sign of spring. Mike saw the first fly of the season, and with one stroke destroyed a progeny of 4,000,000 of them.

All Fools Day History Proves Rather Elusive
(From The New York Sun.)
All Fools day, the first day of April, has long been in America and in many European countries a day of playing practical jokes on unwary persons. False telephone numbers, loaded hats, paper filled pocketbooks, fire cracker cigars, are some of the means used in fooling the public on that day. However, while the date is well remembered and the April fooling continues as of old, yet the origin of the custom cannot be traced with any degree of certainty.

In the literature of the last century there are found many references to it, and yet, beyond that, it is scarcely possible to go. However, one fact does remain, and that is that the practice prevails in many countries, under various names, which would seem to indicate that it dates away back to the early history of the race. Jacob Ludwig Karl Grimm regards the custom as having been introduced into Germany from France in comparatively modern times, in fact, it has been suggested that Europe had derived its April fooling from the French. Although the term is of comparatively modern use, the practice is widespread, but of obscure origin. Various theories have been held as to the sending hither and thither of the Savior from Annas to Caiaphas and from Pilate to Herod; because during the middle ages this scene in Christ's life was made the subject of miracle play formerly represented at Easter, which usually faces near the first of April. It is possible that it may be a relic of some heathen festival.

The custom, whatever be its origin of playing little pranks on this day whereby ridicule may be fixed upon the unguarded individuals, appears to be universal throughout America and Europe. In England and the United States, one thus imposed upon is called an "April fool"; in Scotland "gowk" (cuckoo), the "cuckoo" being there, as in most other lands a term of contempt.

Though the first of April appears to have been anciently observed in Great Britain as a festival, it was apparently not until the beginning of the eighteenth century that the making of April fools was a common custom. The favorite jest is to send a person upon an errand grossly nonsensical or to make appointments which are not to be kept.

The veiv gains support from the fact that the exact counterpart of April fooling is found to have been an immemorial custom in India. It is curious that the Hindus practiced precisely similar pranks on Mar. 31, when they hold what is called the Huli festival, and also in the Feast of Frolics, celebrated by the Romans on Feb. 17.

There is a tradition among the Jews that the custom of making fools on the first of April arose from the fact that Noah sent out the dove on the first of the month corresponding with our April, before the water had abated. To perpetuate the memory of the great deliverance of Noah and his family it was customary on that anniversary to punish persons who had forgotten the remarkable circumstance connected with the date by sending them on some fruitless errand similar to that on which the patriarch sent the luckless bird from the windows of the ark.

A. On the contrary Miss Barton is said to have little if any love for music.

Q. What are the characteristics of Washington bent grass? A. G.

A. This new grass for golf greens is of fine texture, durability, uniformity of surface, and has a bright green coloring. The variety was introduced by accident with mixed bent seed from Germany, and was discovered growing on the golf course of the Washington Golf and Country Club near Washington, D. C. It is a true creeping bent grass and the Department of Agriculture experts who discovered it, removed enough of it to the Government experimental farm to develop seed plots. All the Washington bent grass in America can be traced back to this beginning.

Know-It-All Is Seldom Successful

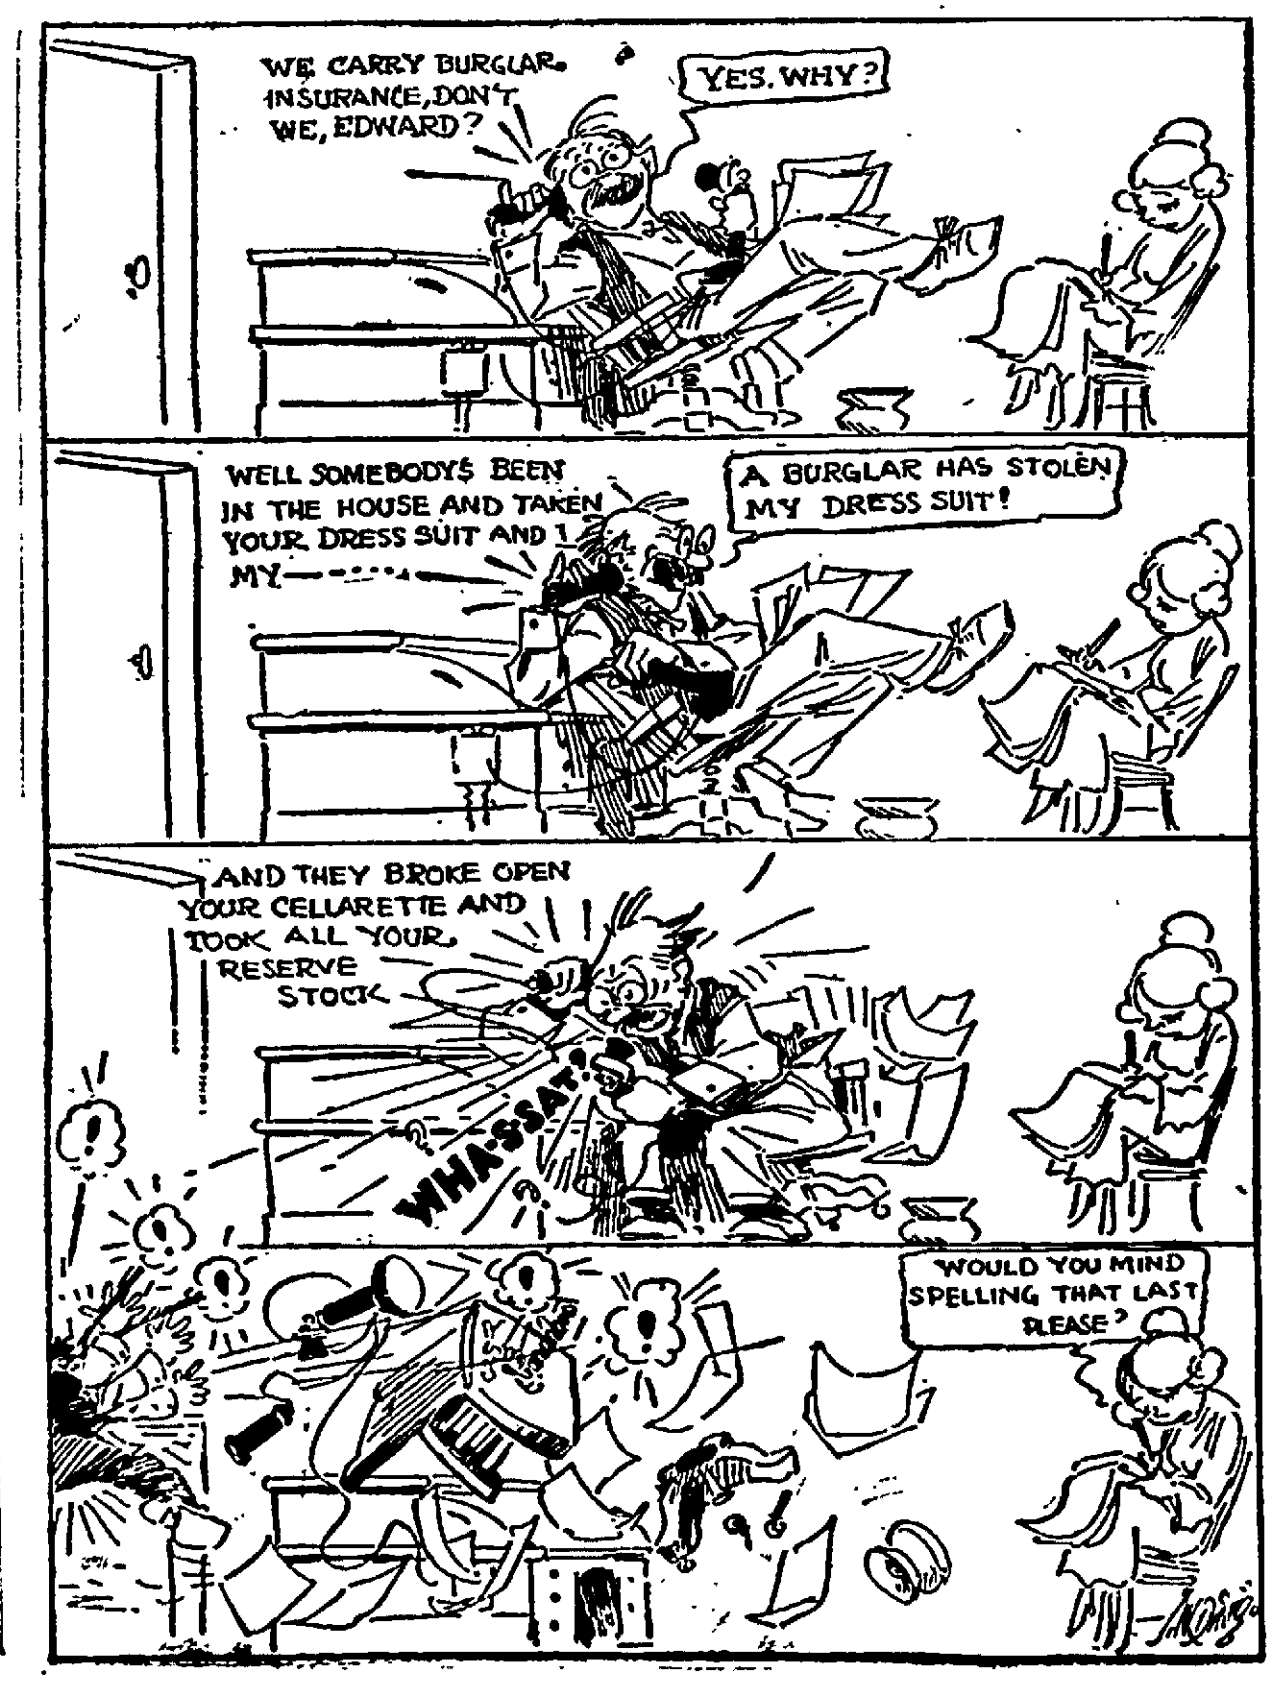

(From The Baltimore Evening Sun.)
It may be that much of Dr. Samuel Johnson's fame rests on the skill of his biographer but in his time he was counted a successful man. He was genuine, active, accomplished things worth while. And yet, strangely enough, Johnson belonged to the know-it-all school. He held the center of the floor. He pounded the table. He raised his voice to drown the arguments of those who disagreed with him. He felt profound contempt for those who could not share his opinions.

Men of the Johnson type who accomplish anything worth while are rare. They are rare for the same reason that one no longer chases a street car after catching it. There is no incentive to labor if one possesses everything worth laboring for. There is a common belief that homey girls are smarter than pretty girls. The truth is that the prettier girl rests on her laurels. She is distinctly conscious of being a success and therefore feels no great enthusiasm about laboring for success.

So it is with the man who knows it all. As a general thing he is an able fellow. He has academic training, has read much, knows how to think. With his training, and his ability he might accomplish great things if he had something to spur him on. But there is without a peer. Why, then, should he labor to make perfection more perfect? Where there is no competition there is no progress.

The beginning of success is the consciousness of not being a success. It is a sublime discontent that fires genius and stands the world on its head. The man who is satisfied with himself will travel no farther. The know-it-all is doomed by his own vanity to a blissful uselessness while men with poorer equipment and less conceit pass on to perform the world's miracles.

Stop War Of Sexes And Achieve, Sophie Kerr Tells Women

New York.—The war between the sexes is over, and it is now up to the women to go ahead and achieve things!

No less a brilliant writer and thinker than Sophie Kerr advances this opinion.

She contends that women now have equal chances with all men in every field of endeavor, and have the edge on them in many.

"The bars are down and the roads clear ahead," says Miss Kerr. "Women have simply to go ahead and do. We can no longer call a man a tyrant, for he isn't. We cannot call ourselves the downtrodden or the weaker sex, for we aren't."

"Sex antagonism is a superstition that is quite outgrown in these days when men and women work side by side as comrades."

And, a very good point that stands out in spite of equality, Miss Kerr believes, that neither man's vaunted masculinity or woman's traditional

Switching to the younger generation—the youth of today—Miss Kerr said:

"The crime of the younger generation is not that they are so wild or that they are so boring. The young people of today are self-conscious about their youth. They make a profession of it which is tiresome. Youth should be spontaneous and casual."

Indian Girl Grows Wealthy Within Year

Muskogee, Okla.—A year ago Exie Effe Jackson, 18-year-old Creek Indian lass, lived in a box car.

And, when she went to borrow $1.50 from a government field clerk, she discovered she had a bank balance of just $5.35 at the Indian agency.

But times changed for Exie. Oil was discovered on her allotment in the Bristol fields. Exie became a rich girl. Her royalties last year are said to have been $200,000.

Then began the troubles of the agency officials. Exie had to have a bungalow. She had to have a motor car.

Since then she's had three of each. Meanwhile she married her school day sweetheart, Berlin Jackson, a white boy. Marital difficulties followed.

Now a Congressional investigation of everything is likely. For Exie says she paid her husband and his lawyers $50,000.

Jack or says he didn't get it. The two attorneys say they only got $250 each.

Agency men are trying to find out who did.

OH, SAVE ME!

Margaret Westbrook is the busiest life-guard on the beach at Venice, Calif. The poor men have to be pulled out of the water so often, you know. One fellow she recently snatched from a watery grave gave her a 10-cent piece. So now Margaret carries a conductor's changer, so she can make change quickly, if somebody else proves equally as generous.

KIMBERLY LOCKS ALTERED TO MAKE THEM FLOOD PROOF

Banks Are Raised and New Gates Installed Ready for Opening of Season

Special to Post-Crescent

Kimberly—During the last winter considerable work has been done by the government repairing the locks at the village of Kimberly. Banks all along the canal were raised about five feet last fall to prevent the water from overflowing into the low land as it had done several times in the past during the high water stage, causing considerable damage. Gates of the locks have been replaced with new ones which are somewhat higher and they will be ready for use when navigation opens April 12. Examinations were conducted during the last week in all departments of the state graded school at Kimberly. Principal Jilson declares that the pupils have been doing excellent work all through the year, perhaps because they have visualized the new school which they are to have in the near future. Little time will be given to preparation of an elaborate graduation program, Mr. Jilson says, as effort will be centered mainly on preparing the children thoroughly for entrance into high school.

LANDSCAPE ARTIST HIRED TO BEAUTIFY NEW SCHOOL PARK

Board of Education Advertises for Bids for Unused School Property

Kaukauna—The question of beautifying the grounds about the new high school was taken up at the regular meeting of the board of education Monday evening in the office of the new building. New diplomas were ordered, the scenery in the auditorium was accepted and it was voted to advertise for bids to dispose of school property not in use.

The contract for landscape gardening plans was awarded to Donald A. Bushey of Appleton for $225. Mr. Bushey was present at the meeting and submitted a sketch of the grounds about the new building showing various arrangements of shrubbery and walks. Mr. Bushey was instructed to confer with F. M. Charlesworth, Jr., city engineer and to work with him in establishing grades for the purpose of filling in the land where necessary. Active work will be started within two weeks.

Due to the fact that it will be advisable to fill in much of the ground, Mr. Bushey said it is out of place at this time to attempt to lay out the entire property. The present plan is to prepare the grounds in front and east of the building.

It was voted to purchase 200 diplomas printed on imitation parchment and bearing a photo-lithograph of the new school building. The diplomas are 14 inches wide by 17 inches long and will cost $54. A bill of $350 for painting new scenes and sets in the auditorium was allowed.

Frank Lucas and in allowing the board formally accepted the work. Since the removal of the high school from the Park school building the kindergarten has had rooms in the Park building. The building across the street formerly occupied by the kindergarten has been vacant and will be offered for sale. The house west of the school on Brothers-st., which was occupied by the janitor also will be sold. The board will advertise for sealed bids to be opened at 5 o'clock Monday evening, April 21.

W. R. C. PRESENTS FLAG TO H. SCHOOL

Junior Class of High School Will Have Charge of Emblem

Kaukauna—A beautiful elk American flag, about six feet long, mounted, was given to the high school by the "Womans' Relief Corps at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the high school auditorium. The emblem was presented to the school by Mrs. James Conway, patriotic instructor of the corps and was accepted on behalf of the institution by Olin G. Dray.

The top of the pole on which the flag is mounted is fitted with a huge gold eagle with spreading wings. The edge of the flag on three sides is trimmed with gold fringe. Following the presentation ceremony the flag was stationed on the landing in the main corridor.

Mrs. Conway was accompanied by Mrs. J. O. Posson, Mrs. Roy Nelson, Mrs. H. E. Thompson and Mrs. Alvin Warneke who acted as color bearers. After accepting the flag for the school it was turned over to the juniors for class which will appoint a committee to care for the emblem and to instruct the students of the school as to the care it should receive.

At the end of the school year the flag will be entrusted to representatives of the sophomore class who will in turn the following term continue the custom of caring for the flag and instructing the students in its proper use.

YOUTH SENTENCED ON ARSON CHARGE

Eau Claire—Leonard Smeets, St. Paul youth, convicted by a jury in circuit court here last week of conspiracy to defraud an insurance company by setting fire to the home of Mrs. Jennie Gerber, was sentenced to four years in the Green Bay reformatory by Judge James Wickham on Monday.

Smeets made a complete confession to the judge of the crime, exonerating Mrs. Gerber, but implicating Mrs. Jennie Ness, who, he said, got him to set fire to the house. Mrs. Ness was divorced from her husband, Henry Ness, on Nov. 10, 1923, and was married to Smeets eighteen days afterwards at St. Paul.

Judge Wickham scored the prisoner, not only for his crime but also for marrying Mrs. Ness so soon after the divorce. Mrs. Ness is the daughter of Mrs. Gerber.

PETITION 500 LINE TO GIVE FREMONT BETTER SERVICE

Village Protests Against Cur- tailment Caused by Removal of Trains

Fremont — Discontinuance of trains No. 11 and 12 on the 500 line which took effect Sunday, April 6, leaves Fremont with greatly curtailed service. Fremont now receives mail only twice a day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. Previous to this the village had mail three times a day. The change also is a hindrance to the local manufacturing plants in shipping products by express. A petition headed by County Supervisor George H. Dobbins is being circulated and signed by local businessmen, to be sent to Minneapolis to have the through trains No. 1 and 2 make Fremont a regular stopping place.

Traffic again was resumed Friday afternoon after a few days of bad weather last week. The warm spell again has laid the concrete bare. Tourist cars from Chicago, Minnesota and Michigan were in the village Friday, drivers stating that the roads were in fine shape between here and Appleton, and that they knew from previous reports that the roads from Fremont to Wausau were in good condition, because of the recent paving done in the year of 1923 between here and Wausau.

A bakery sale was held Saturday at the Cooperative store for the benefit of the Reformed Ladies Aid society.

MEET YOUR UNCLE SAM!

He's Alive and Kicking and Can Prove That He's the Real Thing

Washington.—Step up, folks, and meet your Uncle Sam in the flesh. He is the real thing—and can prove it. For his name has been officially recorded in the records courts here as "Uncle Sam."

But the thousands who have seen him lead the many regiments up Pennsylvania avenue need no court certification to know that he is THE Uncle Sam.

Look at this picture and judge for yourself.

Uncle Sam's other name is George Campbell, and he lives at the U. S. Soldier's Home here. And he is proud of it, for only veterans of the regular army can stay at this home.

He was born in Keen, N. H., on Jan. 5, 1844. In December of 1861 he enlisted as a drummer boy in the Union Army and served with Company D, 17th U. S. Infantry, 5th Army Corps, which was with Sykes Division of the Army at the Potomac.

There wasn't an important engagement in the Peninsula campaign which Campbell missed. He met Lincoln, and all the other big men of the time.

Then as he grew up he became "Uncle Sam."

No one calls him Campbell now—even in court procedure. For the Supreme Court No. 1 of the District of Columbia has addressed him as "George Campbell, Uncle Sam."

And Uncle Sam—no longer a myth—gives the laugh to John Bull and other national figures.

A recent census shows that the horse, instead of becoming a museum curiosity, has increased greatly in numbers.

Poisoned Nerves
Cause Neuritis
Neuritis or "nerve inflammation" often follows an attack of malarial poisoning, typhoid fever, pneumonia or some other infectious disease. The most frequent causes of the trouble, however, are colds, injuries, bruises or nervous exhaustion.

Neuritis may affect one nerve or it may involve many. In some cases the pain moves from place to place, but usually it is confined to the shoulder, neck, forearm, thigh, leg or, small of the back.

Beware of drugs that relieve by deadening the nerves. Such relief is deceptive and dangerous. Epsa Neuritis Tablets act in a safe, natural way, helping to remove the inflammation and bring about permanent, lasting results. Go today and obtain a dollar bottle of these tablets. Sold in Appleton by Voigt's Drug Store and all other leading druggists. Boericko & Runyon Co., Mrs. S. Francisco, adv.

MODERN TEACHING WAYS FAR AHEAD OF 'RED SCHOOL' DAYS

First Ward Parent-Teachers
Club Hears Address on Education

A comparison of the "good old days" of the little red schoolhouse and the days of the modern educational institution was the theme of the address delivered by Edgar Doudna, of Madison, secretary of Wisconsin Teachers' association, at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of First ward school Monday night. Mr. Doudna has long been active in the educational field and his knowledge of present school conditions enables him to present a clear picture of what is being taught in modern schools and its superiority to old-fashioned methods.

In the first place, Mr. Doudna said, many people are continually finding fault with schools, saying they are honeycombed with fads and frills and that the cost of education is much more than in the days when they were youngsters. This is true about the cost, he said, but it must be realized that everything is advanced in price and since ordinary commodities cannot be bought for what they were years ago so it is but natural that the price of education should have advanced. Mr. Doudna said that education cost 3 cents per person per day, but that statistics show that for every dollar spent on education, twenty-two are spent on luxuries. The schools of America are training one-fifth of the population all the time, he said.

Simple methods. If you think that the schools of nowadays are superficial and godless, then go into the first grade of any school and watch. Modern teachers teach children how to read and compare it to the laborious way in which you studied the alphabet, said Mr. Doudna. And don't stop here, for it is not only reading, but in all studies the methods are simple and direct.

Manual training and domestic science courses, which teach children the dignity of work, are important, Mr. Doudna said, because of the great tendency to look on all work as hateful.

NEED STRONG TEACHERS. The modern schools develop responsibility and students do things because they want to and like to and are ready to cooperate with the teacher. But, Mr. Doudna concluded, you can have all the fine buildings you want, all the parent-teacher associations you want and all other associations you deem necessary, but without a proper teaching force the school education amounts to nothing. A teacher should not only expound theories, but it is his duty to be a moral, upright and inspiring example and guidance to those he teaches.

Mr. Doudna's talk was heard by one of the largest audiences the Parent-Teachers association has brought together for a long time. Part of the evening was devoted to a musical program furnished by children. An orchestra composed of pupils of seventh and eighth grades played a group of selections and children of the fifth and sixth grades sang a number of songs. A social hour followed the meeting. The next meeting will be in May, perhaps not the first Monday, and is to be an outdoor meeting and picnic.

Flashes Out Of The Air

Washington, D. C.—The senate on Monday passed the bill aimed to prevent monopoly of radio communication. Under its terms radio broadcasting licenses may be granted for a series of not more than two years. The secretary of commerce is authorized to issue the licenses. The bill contains this declaration: "The ether and the use thereof within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States is hereby reaffirmed to be the inalienable possession of the people of the United States and their government."

HERB HEILIG NAMED TRADE SCHOOL HEAD

Former Lawrence Man Takes Place of W. S. Ford, Given
Leave of Absence

The director of Appleton vocational school for the 1924-25 school year is Herb Heilig, who will take the place of W. S. Ford, present director, who has been given a year's leave of absence so that he may attend the teachers college at Columbia university in New York next year. Mr. Heilig's appointment was announced following a meeting of the vocational school board Tuesday noon.

Mr. Heilig served his apprenticeship as machinist with the Allis-Chalmers Co. West Allis, after completing high school and worked for that company six years three of which were spent as expert erecting machinist. After completing three years of study at Lawrence college he became principal of the public schools at Iowa. During his fourth and last year at Lawrence he taught part time at the vocational school, giving him an opportunity to become thoroughly acquainted with the work.

He is at present acting professor of history at Henderson-Brown college at Arkadelphia, Ark.

SLEEPY DRIVER WAKES UP WHEN CAR RUNS INTO TREE

A Milwaukee motorist suffered the annoyance of having his sleep disturbed while on a ramble Monday noon on the town line road of Grand Chute and Greenville. He was driving along peacefully and the spring air seemed to get into his blood. Yes, he thought he did get up too early in the morning and that he was working altogether too hard. He dozed off without remembering to put in a call. He was thoroughly awakened when his car crashed into a tree along the road. The car was not proceeding at a rapid rate, however, and hence the damage was not great. After a bent fender had been removed, the driver proceeded on his way.

SEMPER METHODOS. If you think that the schools of nowadays are superficial and godless, then go into the first grade of any school and watch. Modern teachers teach children how to read and compare it to the laborious way in which you studied the alphabet, said Mr. Doudna. And don't stop here, for it is not only reading, but in all studies the methods are simple and direct.

Manual training and domestic science courses, which teach children the dignity of work, are important, Mr. Doudna said, because of the great tendency to look on all work as hateful.

NEED STRONG TEACHERS. The modern schools develop responsibility and students do things because they want to and like to and are ready to cooperate with the teacher. But, Mr. Doudna concluded, you can have all the fine buildings you want, all the parent-teacher associations you want and all other associations you deem necessary, but without a proper teaching force the school education amounts to nothing. A teacher should not only expound theories, but it is his duty to be a moral, upright and inspiring example and guidance to those he teaches.

Mr. Doudna's talk was heard by one of the largest audiences the Parent-Teachers association has brought together for a long time. Part of the evening was devoted to a musical program furnished by children. An orchestra composed of pupils of seventh and eighth grades played a group of selections and children of the fifth and sixth grades sang a number of songs. A social hour followed the meeting. The next meeting will be in May, perhaps not the first Monday, and is to be an outdoor meeting and picnic.

Flashes Out Of The Air

Washington, D. C.—The senate on Monday passed the bill aimed to prevent monopoly of radio communication. Under its terms radio broadcasting licenses may be granted for a series of not more than two years. The secretary of commerce is authorized to issue the licenses. The bill contains this declaration: "The ether and the use thereof within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States is hereby reaffirmed to be the inalienable possession of the people of the United States and their government."

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS ANOTHER SPENCER VERDICT

Local Jurist's Decision in Celebrated Bloomer Case is Upheld

The state supreme court Tuesday affirmed the decision of Judge A. M. Spencer of municipal court here in the case of William Bloomer against the Cicero Mutual Fire Insurance company.

Judge Spencer's decision favored the insurance company and the action of the supreme court is only one of a long list of affirmations of Judge Spencer's cases that have made his term unique. During his nine years on the municipal bench he has not had one case reversed. The only decision of his that was reversed was an interpretation of a new statute. He has had approximately 50 decisions affirmed.

The case of Bloomer versus the Cicero Insurance company was one of unusual importance. The fact that the supreme court retained the case for three months indicates that the case was close and important as well as difficult to decide.

REFUSED TO PAY $10,000. The action grew out of a fire which totally destroyed the house and barn on the William Bloomer farm on the School Section a few years ago. When he endeavored to collect about $10,000, the insurance company withheld payment on technical grounds.

It was asserted that Mr. Bloomer in placing a chattel mortgage of about $1,300 on the live stock failed to secure the consent in writing from the insurance company and had the transaction entered in the fire insurance policy. An attempt was made to show that the insurance company had verbally waived objection. Judge Spencer held that insurance company was not liable.

Bradford and Bradford of Appleton represented Mr. Bloomer and A. H. Krugmeyer of Appleton and B. H. Stebbins were the attorneys who represented the insurance company.

Louis Ellis, Mrs. Harrison Fisher, Mrs. E. B. Morse, Mrs. Barrett Goehner and Mrs. Arthur Mory.

KOEPEKE BROTHERS GET CONTRACT TO WIDEN ROUTE 15

9-Foot Concrete on Green Bay
Road Is to Be Extended to 20 Feet

Koepeke Brothers of Appleton on Monday were awarded the contract for widening Highway 15, from McCarty's crossing to the Brown-co line, from the present 9 foot width to 20 feet. The Appleton company's bid was $55,250. Work is to be started as soon as the earth has settled, probably in two weeks, and it must be completed by Nov. 1. The stretch is about 10.44 miles long. The contract was awarded at a meeting of state highway officials in Green Bay.

A detour around the construction will be necessary and it is probable traffic will be directed to Highway 57 from Kaukauna.

PLANS FOR VIADUCT. Plans for constructing a viaduct over the railroad and intersecting tracks at McCarty's crossing were adopted but bids will not be advertised for until the plans are approved by the Wisconsin railroad commission. This will mean a delay of two or three weeks. The "S" turn in the highway is to be eliminated and an overhead structure will carry traffic over the tracks.

Franz Radloff, Plymouth, was given the contract, for building about 1 1/2 miles of concrete between Chilton and Hilbert. His bid was about $23,000. Simpson and Parker of Appleton submitted a bid of about $34,000 on the work.

POLICE IN CHURCH TO PROTECT PRIEST

Kenosha—Police were summoned on Sunday to attend services at the Independent Polish church here, by the pastor, the Rev. K. Nurkiewicz, who declared that he feared violence at the hands of some members of the congregation.

The church, which is not a Roman Catholic congregation, although much the same service is used, has been a storm center for some time, as the result of trouble over finances. The priest told police he had refused to resign until his salary has been paid in full, and this, he claims, the congregation refuses to do.

Opponents of the priest claim that he had a wife in Poland, contrary to the rules of the church. This the pastor denies.

Presence of the police at the service on Sunday effectively prevented any trouble, and the service was carried off quietly. Father Nurkiewicz announced that he would continue to hold services, with police protection if necessary, until his salary dispute with members of his parish is adjusted.

GO TO FOND DU LAC TO BOOST CONCLAVE

Four members of Appleton Rotary club attended a Rotary luncheon at Fond du Lac Monday noon and gave talks boosting the Tenth district conference which will be held in this city April 29 and 30. They were Dr. D. O. Kinsman, E. H. Krug, H. L. Dawson and George R. Wetengel. Each talked on some phase of the conference and urged Fond du Lac Rotarians to attend. A fund of possible delegates revealed that all but one will be present at all or part of the sessions here.

It is the plan of the Appleton club to send groups of men to the meetings of all clubs in this locality before the conference to promote interest and attendance.

Reports on convention progress were made to the executive committee at a dinner at Conway hotel Monday evening by the publicity, automobile, show and registration committees, the chairman of which were present.

Convict Radio Musician Plays For Appletonian

In a piano program broadcasted at 9:30 Monday evening by Harry M. Snodgrass, famous convict musician, from Station WOS at Jefferson City, Mo., a piano selection was dedicated to a "W. S. Dean of Appleton, Wis.," but an effort to identify the Appleton person was unsuccessful. The name of the selection was "Nickle in the Slot," and was played, it is believed, in response to a telegram sent by an Appleton resident. Several Appleton radio enthusiasts turned in an WOS, which is said to stand for Watch Our State, and were very well pleased with the quality of the entertainment. No such person as W. S. Dean, however, can be found in the directory, and residents who answer to the surname know of no such person here.

ATTRACTIVE HOME CAN BE RUINED BY CHEAP HARDWARE

Buy Only the Best. Building
Class at Y. M. C. A.
Is Told

C. L. Boynton, activities secretary of the Y. M. C. A., gave a talk on hardware to the building class of the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening. Two talks, the other on painting, had been arranged for, but the painter was unable to be present.

The speaker was in the hardware business before becoming a Y. M. C. A. secretary and with the aid of many panels of mounted locks, door knobs and fixtures was able to give many points about building. He urged that people realize the value of bronze hardware in their households. He showed the difference between iron, steel and bronze and their uses. Some interesting specimens of the hardware were shown, including the lock for the front door of the Masonic temple which is done in wrought iron. Once more the building class was urged to buy the best for this part of their home and urged not to ruin an otherwise attractive house by choosing poor metal ware.

"Twice in my hardware experience I had a great delight in building hardware," said the speaker. "Just two times did a builder come to me and say that he was building a house and asked me to furnish him with the hardware he needed. He was not trying to save the pennies, but by allowing a man in the business to plan the fixtures he certainly got his money's worth."

Attorney Mark Catlin was at Oshkosh Tuesday on business.

WANT TO END LAND O' LAKES CAMPAIGN SOON AS POSSIBLE

Hope to Raise County's Quota of $2,600 Within Ten Days

A strenuous effort is being made to collect Outagamie-co's quota of $2,600 for advertising Wisconsin through Wisconsin. The Land O' Lakes, Inc., in the shortest possible time. Folders describing the purposes of the campaign and what it is hoped to accomplish from the advertising have been prepared and every person in the county is invited to become a member of the association.

It is pointed out that millions of dollars have been expended by other communities to advertise their advantages and resources and the benefits have been immense. Wisconsin, it is argued, will benefit as much as other states which have advertised. The Land O' Lakes will spend about $60,000 in its work this year. In 1923 only about $25,000 was available but this money greatly increased the number of visitors to Wisconsin and made the entire state more prosperous. It is estimated that $100,000 was spent by tourists in Wisconsin last year.

MORE TOURISTS IN 1924
Improvement of Wisconsin roads and the advertisement which last year's tourists are giving the state will increase the number of visitors this spring, summer and fall. The advertising matter prepared by the Land O' Lakes is designed to awaken an interest in what Wisconsin has to offer so that persons preparing for summer tours will consider this state. Educational, agricultural and industrial resources will be described in booklets which supplement the advertising appearing in newspapers and magazines.

Membership in Wisconsin, The Land O' Lakes, Inc., can be obtained at $1 and up. It is hoped by the committee that persons and institutions that benefit most directly from the tourist trade which advertising brings to them will be more liberal in their membership fees. A large number of $50 and $100 subscriptions are necessary if the county quota is to be reached.

The hotel committee for the Tenth District Conference of ROTARY CLUBS to be held here April 29-30, will need a large number of rooms in addition to those available in hotels. Those having rooms will list them together with rates with the Chamber of Commerce, Phone 2701 at once.

MARCH WEATHER WAS JUST ABOUT NORMAL

Only Unusual Feature of Month Was Snow Storm After Spring Started

The month just past was not remarkable in any important factor. The temperature was fairly constant throughout the month, rising to a maximum of 52 degrees on the 27th, and sinking to a minimum of 11 degrees above zero on the 1st, 14th and 15th. As compared with the extreme records of 52 degrees in 1916, and 23 degrees below zero in 1890, this range of temperature is quite moderate. The mean temperature for the month was 28.2 degrees, which is 1.4 degrees above the normal temperature of 26.8 degrees.

The precipitation also was nearly normal, the total being 2.4 inches, which is 0.09 of an inch above the normal of 2.40 inches. The total snowfall during the month was 24.1 inches, which has been exceeded twice since records were begun in 1887, by a fall of 27.2 inches during March, 1888, and by 32.1 inches in 1923. The snow covering on the ground disappeared rapidly after the middle of the month, the ground bare except for the deep drifts and densely shaded places by the 20th.

The most pronounced weather feature during the month was the storm of the 28th to 30th, during which driving snow again covered the ground to a considerable depth, the wind reaching a maximum velocity for the month of 53 miles an hour from the northeast on the early afternoon of the 28th. The record wind velocity for March was 62 miles an hour from the southwest in 1920 and from the northeast in 1918.

One lunar halo was observed on the 26th, and ten solar halos, on the 3rd, 5th, 15th, 17th, 18th, 20th, 24th, 26th, 27th and 31st. That on the 20th was brilliant and unusual in character.

DON'T WANT KIDDIES TO START SCHOOL IN SPRING

The resumption of school sessions after the spring vacation will see fewer beginners' classes in the rural schools of Outagamie-co than formerly. It is possible that no beginners will be enrolled at all. For many years the state and county school superintendents have endeavored to have school districts abolish the old-fashioned custom of entering beginners in spring, since this practice disrupts the school routine work and cripples the efficiency of the school.

Teachers of rural school have been requested to advise parents to keep small children home until fall rather than enter them at this time.

100 Per Cent Readers
Pleasant Dale school, Center of town, Miss Nora L. Nitz, is teacher. It is the latest of Outagamie-co schools to join the list of 100 per cent schools in reading circle work. This means that every one of the pupils has finished the prescribed reading list. A certificate indicating that this is a 100 per cent school will be issued by A. G. Meating, county school superintendent.

COUNTY MAY PAY TOWARD DRAINAGE

Board Plans Hearing April 16 to Decide Share of Deer Creek Project

Removal of the last objection to the proposed Deer Creek drainage district is expected to be accomplished at a meeting of Outagamie-co drainage board at the county court on April 16. At that time the county highway commission will be called in to adjust the question of assessment for the land over which county trunk highway D passes.

taxpayers of the village of Bear Creek and the township of Deer Creek objected at a hearing last week to an assessment for benefits accruing to this road. It was pointed out to the board that this highway has been made a part of county trunk line D since the drainage district was mapped out. It is therefore believed that the two units of government should not pay for this assessment for construction of the drainage ditch, but that the county ought to pay it. Adjournment therefore was taken so the county officials may be heard. Olen and Olen, Clintonville attorneys, appeared for the objectors.

Highway D will benefit considerably through the drainage project. Parts of this road are under water almost every spring, or surrounded by so much water as to interfere with traffic. The plan of drainage will eliminate this condition.

Presidential Election Has Little Effect On Business, Babson Says

Business Influences Politics
Rather Than Politics Influences Business, Survey Shows.

Babson Park, Fla.—"How will the coming election affect business between now and next November?" The question was today put to Roger Babson, business authority.

According to the statistician any connection between general business and politics may be likened to that of the tail and the dog. He insists in this case however, that politics is the tail and that the actual incidents in which a political tail has wagged the business dog are extremely few and far between.

"Election years are supposed to be poor business years," says Mr. Babson, "but business history shows that election years are very much like other years, some good, some poor, and some about average. Most of the generalization about politics affecting business are not verified by the facts. Statistics indicate rather that general business conditions have a marked effect upon the outcome of political issues.

"If we go back to 1854, for instance, we find an election being held during a business panic. Failures were high in both number and liability, and unemployment was general. The public was dissatisfied with business conditions and a change seemed preferable to the continuance of existing circumstances. Grover Cleveland, Democrat was elected to succeed President Arthur a Republican.

"Four years later in 1858 we find general business conditions about average. Under these circumstances fundamental business conditions did not affect the political situation materially and President Harrison a Republican was elected. The Democratic majority in the House, however, was maintained. In business we had an even balance between prosperity and depression. In politics we found a similar balance between Republican and Democratic parties.

"The 'sound prosperity' of 1891 began to give way to an average basis and by November of 1892 business men generally had a feeling of uncertainty. Fundamentally business was normal but the change from prosperity to normal business had very much the same effect as depression. The decline foretold a change in administration and Grover Cleveland was elected on the Democratic ticket and went into office with a Democratic Congress.

"The panic of 1893 sent business into a depression that lasted through Cleveland's entire second term and the election of 1896 brought President McKinley with a Republican Congress. Unsatisfactory business conditions and large unemployment had again dictated 'change'.

"General business improved rather rapidly during the Spanish-American War and the period of prosperity following it. Business was active, confidence ran high and employment was good. In November of 1900, under the circumstances, it was natural that the Republican party be maintained in office. McKinley was re-elected and went in with a Republican Congress.

"A money panic developed in 1903 but was not particularly serious. By 1904, the election year, business was improving rapidly and confidence was again established. The sharp rise toward improvement would naturally indicate a maintenance of the party in power. Republicans were re-elected.

"In 1907 another money panic developed and proved to be more serious than that of 1903. If the election had been held in the fall of 1907 there is little doubt that the Democrats would have won. By 1908, however, business had recovered to a certain degree and was just about normal at election time. The general balance of conditions was reflected in the election of that year which brought in President Taft on the Republican ticket but returned a Democratic majority in the House of Representatives. Four years later in 1912 business conditions were very uncertain. Labor troubles were developing and wages generally were low. Business conditions favored a change. Woodrow Wilson was elected in November and took up his duties the following March with a Democratic Congress.

"The World War very naturally colored the campaign of 1916 but business was enjoying war time prosperity. Wages were good and profits were increasing. From a business point of view conditions were highly satisfactory and this situation argues for a continuance for the present administration. The Democratic party was put into office for another four years.

"The post-war boom broke in January of 1920 and that year saw a decline in commodity prices unparalleled in history. Business was on a toboggan and the blackest sort of depression had settled down by election time. Under the circumstances it was most natural that the party in power should be voted out that a new administration should be voted in. President Harding and a Republican Congress came into office as a result.

"It is evident from this study that whenever general business conditions are declining or depressed, whenever unemployment is a problem and economic conditions are generally unsatisfactory the voters tend to change the administration regardless of which party has been in power. Whenever business is improving or is in a period of prosperity, when employment is good and wages are high, the party in power will in all probability be maintained regardless of its politics.

"With this situation in mind we are facing the election of November, 1924, and it is rather more pertinent to ask 'What effect will business have on the election' than it is to ask 'How will election affect business'.

"The first two years of Mr. Harding's administration saw depression. Last year we averaged at about normal and this year so far business is sticking very closely to our average line of growth. In fact the current reading of the Babsonchart shows business at just 3 per cent above normal.

"Fundamental economic conditions will continue to govern business," concluded Mr. Babson, "but if you are interested in the outcome of this year's election I commend a careful study of these fundamental economic conditions between now and next November. Any tendency toward

If lent is not the cause of this slowness of the matrimonial contracts, then Cupid has been falling down on his job most disgracefully, seeing that it is leap year. According to the records of John E. Hantschel, only four marriage licenses were issued during March. This probably is the "low water" mark in marriage license records of this county. But even Brown-co has that record beaten, for only three licenses were applied for in that office during March. Thirty-two licenses have been issued up to date, whereas last year 50 had been granted in the corresponding period.

SOLITE (REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.) A PERFECT GASOLINE Is a Sensation

It gives such a ready response to every demand made upon it that motorists are more than satisfied—they are enthusiastic.

Solite lends to your engine the element of flexibility that amounts to eagerness.

Solite starts your motor at the "drop of the hat"—it picks up quickly—it accelerates in a smooth, gliding fashion.

But, where Solite shines and stands alone and above so-called "high-test" gasolines, is in the extraordinary power and speed which it develops and then sustains.

The answer is that Solite, made by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), by the cracking process, drives the piston the full stroke under power. That is the secret of efficiency in a light gasoline.

For a Light Gasoline, Solite is Low-Priced

Not Always the Fault of the Furnace!

Is your house insulated?

When your heating plant "breaks down" during a blizzard, it may be doing its full duty. Perhaps your house is built the old-fashioned way—without wall and roof insulation. If so, the chances are that your heating plant is really efficient. But you are asking it to heat your house and all outdoors, too.

No Home Modern Without
Flax-li-num

If your house had Flax-li-num in walls and roof you would always be warm and comfortable, on less fuel. Much of the heat you pay for now is wasted. For scientific tests show that a house insulated with Flax-li-num requires 33% less fuel than a non-insulated house of the same size.

Flax-li-num is a felt-like material made from tough flax fibres. It is built into the walls and roof. It resists the passage of heat—either way. Is a non-conductor of heat. So it keeps your home cool in summer as well as warm in winter. Every year it is put into thousands of refrigerator cars and ice boxes, of the Bohn type, to keep things cool.

Insist on Flax-li-num

Flax-li-num is easily applied

Whether you build, buy or rent see that your family lives in a house lined with Flax-li-num. You'll find it pays. If you will call, write or phone we will be glad to give you free booklet and samples of Flax-li-num. Or tell you where you can find Flax-li-num insulated houses to rent or buy.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-
COTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT,
CONTINUED

"I am afraid Jack would not forgive me for selling those pearls when I knew they were real and would help him out of trouble, even though I am quite sure he would have been the first to do so rather than let my father, as he supposed, into his personal affairs."

"And he is afraid you would not forgive him," impetuously interrupted Ruth.

"Forgive him for what?" I asked in surprise.

For a moment, little Marquise, Ruth looked embarrassed. "Well, you know very well," she said, "in your own mind you think little Jack belongs to Sydney Carton. You are also quite sure that Jack knows the truth of this. He is afraid, however, to tell you the whole truth for fear you will not forgive him for not telling it to you in the first place."

"That is just it, Ruth, that is just it. We have no business to be afraid of each other. Two people link themselves together in marriage. They live in the same house, they have the same friends, they breed and bring up children, they share poverty and wealth, pleasure and pain, they are supposed to be one."

"Yet they are always strangers in everything that really goes to make up the essentials of life. I think it is their senseless egotistical pride that makes them such misunderstanding persons. They always think they are fooling each other and, if the truth were known, they are only fooling themselves."

"The isolation of married life is a dreadful thing and it seems to me strange that no one as yet, in all the years we have had monogamy and monogamous marriages, has been able to find out how to overcome it. You may say love, if two people really love each other, would do this. But love can do nothing by which two people will grow nearer to each other, in more understanding. For we are all of us apt to live to those we love most, just because we love them. We don't want them to see the worst of us. We are ashamed of telling them our mistakes. We are like spiritual peacocks spreading our tails of self-conceit for others to admire."

"We even lie to ourselves and excuse ourselves by saying the other must not know what we know because it would hurt, when all the while it is because we are either ashamed or afraid to let it be known. We are still like a spiritual peacock, and we forget in our self-conceit that our feet are ugly."

"The law of nature, which means of course the perpetuation of the race, has nothing to do with the psychology of humanity. Indeed, sometimes I think the power of reasoning rather mixes up things instead of straightening them out."

Adventures Of The Twins

A BOW-WOW RIDDLE

Nancy and Nick were certainly having a fine time in Riddle Land. Not only did they like the Riddle Lady with her merry smile, and also the people, from the Humpty Dumpty to the Tattered Man, but they loved to guess the riddles!

They hoped the Fairy Queen would let them stay for a while—that is, as long as there were any riddles to guess.

They ran to meet the Riddle Lady next day when she came. "What is it about this time?" begged Nancy. The Riddle Lady laughed. "It's about a queer creature you ever heard of. What is it?"

"A leg on each one of his corners, and whiskers each side of his nose. And a nice little tail. That sticks up like a sail. And follows wherever he goes."

"His nose is the funniest ever! It's black and it's cold and it's wet. If it's dry and it's hot. Mother says like as not it's a sign that his tummy's upset."

"He's fondest of bones and of candy. But he dearly loves morsels of meat. And he stands up and begs On his funny hind legs. If he thinks you have anything sweet."

"Way out at the end of our garden. All covered with sticks and with stones. Is a queer little mound Where he's dug up the ground And buried the most of his bones."

"I'm ashamed of the way he treats kitties. And chases them 'round through the town. If they climb up a tree He just waits there to see How long they will be coming down."

"He barks at the nuns and nuns and babies. He barks at the fountains and trees. He barks at the moon. Like a big gold balloon—Gee, he thinks, like the mouse. It's cheese."

STRIBLING ARRIVES IN CHICAGO; HERE THURSDAY

Georgia Schoolboy Is National Star; Quinn In Shape For Battle

Principals Put in Final Days of Training in Milwaukee; Victory Would Give Joe Chance at Title.

"Doubling Thomases" who still were inclined to be skeptical regarding Stribling's appearance in the card scheduled for Armory G Friday will have the pins knocked from under them by the announcement that Stribling has reached Chicago with his party and will proceed from there to Milwaukee almost immediately. He will remain in the Green city for several days to give him his final ticks of training and is expected in Appleton Thursday.

Quinn reported to the Appleton association Tuesday on his way to Milwaukee where he will report to the state fight commission for examination, and avail himself of the opportunity to polish off with a few days of fast sparring. The "Gunner" is down to 157 pounds, and expects to fight between 157 and 165. Stribling will weigh in at 155 according to a long distance report from "Pa." This gives him a 6-pound handicap, but Joe Quinn fights his best and fastest at his present weight, the advantage will not be great.

NATIONAL CELEBRITY

Young Stribling is without a doubt one of the greatest fighters of the day. It is his aim to attain to Jack Dempsey's glory, and if he keeps up his present pace it looks as though he's on the highroad to success. Though he's on the highroad to success, his recent victory over Mike McGinnis became the "uncrowned" light-heavyweight champion, and if "Gunner" Joe Quinn should hand him a sleeping potion, the Gunner would be in line for some big fights. With this incentive, Quinn may be depended upon to do some tall stepping. He has never been forced to let himself out to the limit in an Appleton fight, but when he meets the Georgia schoolboy, he sure will have his hands full.

The most remarkable feature of Stribling's fighting is his speed, according to witnesses of several of his battles. Quinn is fast and has a hefty punch in either hand, but the Georgia schoolboy is reported to be a veritable streak of lightning.

Orders continue to pour in from all over the middle west, and Appleton is getting an unusual amount of publicity from the card. The limited seating capacity of Armory G is causing a bit of anxiety among the Appleton promoters, and in an effort to extend to the greatest possible limit, they have erected bleachers around the entire hall, from the balcony to within a few feet of the ring.

CHERRY BLOSSOMS BEAT CONWAY FIVE

Conway's Specials Monday night dropped three straight games to the Cherry Blossoms in a match rolled on the Eagle alleys here. Both teams got off to a good start in the first game, when the Conways smashed $21 pins, and the Cherry Blossoms toppled $41. In the second game, the Blossoms slumped to $28, and the Specials dropped back to $03. The third was disastrous for the losers, who cracked out a $63 score, to $05 for the victors.

PHIL COLLINS

Phil Collins, who won 17 games and lost only 8 for the Rockford (Ill.) team of the Three-I league last year, is regarded as a fine pitching prospect by Manager Killefer of the Chicago Cubs, now working out at Catalina Island, Calif. Collins is a Chicago boy and picked up his knowledge of pitching on the sandlots of that city.

SAND PLANNING BIG COMEBACK WITH PHILLIES

Fletcher Appears to Think Pacific Cost Flash Has Found Himself

Philadelphia — Has Johnny Sand, the shortstop who came up from the Pacific coast last year preceded by blaring bands and much ballyhooing only to fall miserably, found himself? Art Fletcher, manager of the Phillies, seems to think so.

Fletcher tells you that Sand started to come the last six weeks in the 1923 season, when he cut loose with an amazing batting sport, and, for the first time during the year, began to field flawlessly.

"I look for him to pick right up this spring where he left off last fall and if he does he will be the ranking shortstop in the National League," predicts Fletcher.

As incredible as it may seem the Phillies paid $25,000 for Sand last year—well, they said they paid $25,000 for him—and naturally plenty was expected of him. Sand proved a terrible flop; he only hit .223 and he made more errors than any shortstop in either league.

At one stage Sands work became so horrible that Fletcher had to take him out of the lineup and use Parkins, the utility man.

"I think this was due to stage fright more than anything else," explains Fletcher. "The youngster got off to a bad start and the fans began razzing him, with the usual result: the kid went all to pieces."

Sand's fielding and hitting were of high caliber in the spring scrambles against major league opposition.

The Nut Cracker

HEADLINE says, "Cheap eggs will rule this year." Is this a dirty crack at the new big league managers or the Coolidge administration?

As yet unfortunately, no one has kicked Battling Siki off the top of the Washington monument.

Evidently Johnny Evers hasn't gone back much. We see where he is.

It might be a relief, at that, if Flr... went into the silent drama... To date he has been little more than a noisy comic.

You can't keep a good man down long, but then ten seconds is long enough in the prize ring.

Michael McTigue's friends are urging him to fight Stribling again... It's that kind of friends McTigue has he'd best stay away from his enemies.

The newspapers are printing a poem written by Abraham Lincoln... In spite of that we think the old boy was a great guy.

APPLETON ELKS BEAT NEW LONDON BOWLING TEAMS

Invaders Take Two Out of Three Games From Home Teams; Banquet Served

Two teams of Appleton Elks Sunday afternoon journeyed to New London and there took a pair of bowling five into camp, each Appleton team winning two out of three games. J. H. Balliet shot high score for the Appleton delegation when he toppled 580 maples, leading Dr. Clark, high man on the New London force, by 20 pins.

Oscar Kuntz, usually among the leaders in Elks matches, thought he was "rolling a duck pin" when he slumped to 108 in his final game.

The teams which bowled Sunday will meet in a return match here, Monday April 14.

After the bowling matches, a banquet was tendered the visiting bowlers and their wives by the New London Elks in the Grand hotel, and an extremely good time was reported.

Faces Tough Job

THE SPIRIT OF HANS WAGNER LOOMS OVER THE DESTINY OF GLENN WRIGHT

Last season Glenn Wright, crack shortstop of the Kansas City club, was the sensation of the American Association.

This year Glenn Wright makes his big league debut with the Pittsburgh Pirates. The crisis is just ahead for him.

Wright was purchased a year ago by Barney Remy for immediate delivery. He made a request that he be permitted to play one more year in the minors, that he didn't believe he was quite ready.

That was unusual. Most players jump at the chance to make the big show.

The request was granted. Wright helped Kansas City win a pennant, and the world series of the minors, in defeating Baltimore, champions of the International League.

The learned scouts have pronounced Wright ready for the majors. He is regarded as the most promising recruit to come to the big show in 1924.

Yet, it is questionable, if any youngster ever faced a tougher job than does Wright.

Pittsburgh fans in ranking shortstops always draw comparisons with the great Hans Wagner. That's hardly fair, but it's a war the fans have.

Wright has been so highly touted, so strongly pre-announced, that he has one big task ahead to come up to all the nice things that have been said about him.

County Moguls Plan New Baseball League

Hortonville, Dale, New London, Bear Creek, Black Creek and Fremont Managers Invited to Meet April 16.

Plans are underway for the organization of a county baseball league with Hortonville, Dale, Bear Creek, Black Creek, Fremont and New London as prospective members. Invitations have been sent out to the managers of these teams for an initial meeting in the offices of the Post-Crescent in Appleton at 745 P. M. on Wednesday, April 16, at which time it is expected to draw up a constitution and a set of bylaws, and to conclude all the preliminary details.

Last year most of the cities and towns of the county played independent ball, and found it an extremely unsatisfactory arrangement. They had great difficulty in arranging games, and no way of settling disputes and protests, and were "out of luck" in general. Several of the teams were forced to quit before the season ended, and as far as results were concerned, nothing definite had been decided.

GET EARLY START

This year it is planned to get the league underway early enough to assure its success. A definite schedule already is mapped out for the season, and after they have discussed the business of the league at the initial conference, the league will be ready to go. Probably the schedule will open on May 18, but that depends upon the vote of the directors.

Efforts will be made to keep the teams on an even salary basis to assure an equal chance for all. This is bound to increase interest among the fans, and together with the fact that games will be played on a regular schedule will assure better crowds than the independent variety of the national pastime.

Rivalry among the cities and towns of the proposed league always has been strong and with the members compactly bunched as they are this year, the success of the thing seems to be assured.

TUNNEY-CARPENTIER DATE ADVANCED TO JUNE, REPORT

New York — Francois Descamps, manager of Georges Carpentier, Monday called acceptance of the plan to advance the Tunney-Carpentier heavyweight fight to a date early in June in order to avoid conflicting with a bout between the winner and Tom Gilbey on July 4. In the mid-dleweight, Billy Gibson, manager of Tunney said, Carpentier will arrive May 18, the cable said.

were given trials on the State League team, and acquitted themselves very well. This shows that the plan is being having at least a moderate measure of success, and the moguls are content to continue with the plan.

GIANTS WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT TO MARK JAWN'S BIRTHDAY

Boston Braves Confirm Bancroft's Forecast by Humbling Reading Club

The New York Giants celebrated John McGraw's fifty first birthday Monday by winning their fifth consecutive game—a 5 to 3 verdict over the White Sox at Chattanooga. George Kelly and Hack Gowdy hit homers while Walter Hunsinger and Dennis Gearin held the Sox to seven safe blows. The Robins were sacrificed for a 17 to 4 Yalkee holiday at Knoxville, Tenn.

Bob Shawkey held the Robins to one hit during the first five innings. With an 11-run lead, Walter Hoyt pitched easily early in the last four frames during which "Uncle Robby's" team made eight hits. Dazzy Vance collected 11 hits and 5 passes in 5 innings. Dutch Henry was touched for eight hits in two innings. The Yanks and Robins meet again at Knoxville, and the Giants and White Sox will continue their argument at Nashville.

Confirming Manager Dave Bancroft's opinion that the Boston Nationals would begin hitting as soon as they took the road the Braves Monday routed Reading of the International League, 12 to 6, at Albany, Ga., securing 18 hits and driving 17 homers. Nixon and McNelis hit two 4-haze clouts each, while Bancroft, O'Neil and Cunningham made one apiece.

BOSTON WINS DULL GAME

The Boston Americans won a dull game from Memphis in the Southern association by a 7 to 5 score at Memphis. For the third time in the current training campaign, the Boston Braves and Washington Americans got together at Macon, Ga., Tuesday on the barnstorming trip north.

Leaving the Florida training camp with a record of seven victories, two defeats and one tie, the Senators added to their laurels Monday at Savannah with a 5 to 3 victory over Rochester of the International league in 11 innings.

"Goose" Goelin has been sent to Washington by Harris with a warning that he must condition himself properly by Tuesday or face suspension with loss of salary until he is ready for action.

Manager Mack of the Philadelphia Americans plans to send Rommel to the mound against the Phillies Tuesday in an effort to even the city series, the first game of which the National leaguers won Saturday 6 to 3. Either Couch or Hubbell will start the game for the Phillies.

MACK SIGNS SOUTHPAW

Mack Tuesday announced the addition to his staff of a new southpaw pitcher. He is Carl Karasala, who played last year for an independent team in the Johnstown, Pa., City league.

After a 12 to 4 defeat at the hands of Cincinnati Monday at Atlanta, Ga., The Detroit Americans and their opponents of Monday moved to Birmingham, Ala., Tuesday for the second of series of games. Monday's game was the first meeting between the Tigers and a major league club this season.

Pitcher Luther Roy will be returned by the Cleveland Indians to the Chattanooga Southern league team for more seasoning, advices received from New Orleans Tuesday state. It also is understood that recruits Max Turk, Bernard Kuhn, Pete Thompson, Fran Jerle and Kenneth Hogan will be sent to New Orleans Thursday.

A lucky break in the ninth inning saved the St. Louis Browns from defeat by the Fort Worth (Texas) Panthers in a 14-inning game at Fort Worth Monday. With two out and two on, with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the Panthers, Johnny Tobin raised a pop fly in front of shortstop which a strong wind fortunately carried out of reach. The game ended, 5 to 3, for the Browns.

Fred Schlieffner, understudy first baseman for George Sisler, is in the hospital here suffering from blood poisoning following an injury to his foot.

BOBBY JONES HAS EASY TIME BEATING SPEAKER

Tris Speaker and Bobby Jones met for the first time on an Atlanta golf course the other day. The Indians' manager was in rare form and gave the champion an interesting battle, losing by a decent margin. "I suppose you'd call it decent," commented Speaker. "He only beat me three holes in a nine-hole match, and I suspect he was taking things easy at that."

Young Jake considers the match a teaseup. Schaefer was the first to meet Horemans when he arrived from Belgium in 1920.

"Horemans should make Hoppe stop," Schaefer continued. "If he gets away on a few of those wild runs of his he will be hard to beat. Hoppe is a great player and a greater billiard general, but what good is strategy if you can't get a shot? The match is only 1,500 shots, a mere sprint, and the couple of long runs will turn the championship tide. Horemans has been having a great year. He has more confidence and should prove dangerous."

Hoppe has taken precautionary measures in meeting his Belgian rival. He recently returned from a trip through the middle west, where he gave exhibition matches with Jake Schaefer, the former champion, as a workout.

PICK COMMITTEE TO CHOOSE G. A. R. MEMORIAL SHAFT

Legion Also Announces Pageant for Poppy Sale—Hantschel Is Fun Maker

An architect, an engineer, an artist and an attorney have been appointed on a committee to select the type of monument for the burial plot of the Grand Army of the Republic at Riverside cemetery, according to a report made by the executive committee at the monthly meeting of Oney Johnston post of the American legion in Elk hall Monday evening. The legion is sponsoring the campaign to raise funds for the memorial shaft for the Civil war veterans.

Members of the committee, respectively, are T. E. Oriskany, R. M. Connelly, Austin Saecker and C. E. Behnke. They will decide what kind of monument is wanted, after conferring with the G. A. R. members and then will obtain bids so the size of the fund will be known.

PETTIGREW PRESIDES

H. J. Pettigrew, presided at the legion meeting in place of Commander L. Hugo Keller, who was absent from the city. The poppy sale also was taken up and an entertainment program followed.

The poppy sale committee reported that the Women's Legion auxiliary is arranging a pageant to be given soon as a means of bringing the purpose of the sale before the public. Members of the legion will take part in the pageant. Money realized from the sale is used for welfare work among veterans of the war.

"PUTS ONE OVER"

John Hantschel, the legion's chief comedian, "put it over" on the veterans again during the entertainment program. He ascended the platform and "played" a saxophone solo. It was so well done the boys clapped for an encore. He started a second selection, but when in the midst of it was obliged to rest the horn in order to catch his breath. To the amazement of the audience the music kept coming on. It was found that the real player was behind the stage and that Hantschel provided only the motions.

Three members of Mellorin orchestra, Howard McMurchie, Leslie Griesser and William Dunn, furnished music, and Fritz O. who is at a local theater, sang yodeling songs. A songfest was led by Charles C. Baker.

An attendance of at least 400 will be the goal at the meeting the first Monday in May, according to plans of the entertainment committee. A 6-act program will be carried out at that time.

HERTZFELDT BACK AT CHURCH DUTIES

The Rev. A. F. Hertzfeldt, who was given a year's leave of absence because of sickness, occupied his pulpit at Immanuel Lutheran church at Black Creek Sunday morning. A large crowd was present to greet the pastor on his return. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hertzfeldt and the sermon was preached by the Rev. K. Timmel of New London.

The Black Creek minister has spent most of the time during his absence in Appleton. He plans to assume his pastoral duties gradually but will not attempt to preach for the time being.

Other pastors of this locality, who took turns supplying the pulpit all the time he was absent, will continue to preach for a few Sundays more. The Rev. Mr. Hertzfeldt will conduct the remainder of the service each Sunday, however.

Theophilus Uetzman of Wrightstown, a student of the Lutheran theological seminary at Wauwatosa, will preach next Sunday morning.

House Fired By Explosion In Gas Tank

Explosion of gasoline stored in a tank buried underground 12 feet from the house caused damage estimated at $1,000 to the home of Joseph Greis, Sherwood, about 6:30 Monday evening. It is not known what caused the explosion. The gasoline was used for a lighting system in the home but none of the lamps were lighted.

Fire is said to have crept through the pipes leading from the tank to the home and the flames spread rapidly after reaching the building. Mr. Greis was burned about the hands and face while trying to save property from the building.

Irene Hogan took ill in the county jail Monday night and it became necessary to call in a physician to attend her. Mrs. Hogan also is in poor health.
